See Section V (Section G in SAMA's DBT) for a list of procedures which are often done in rooms to which modifier 0004 should not be applied. Tariff Code	Description of Tariff Code	CF	Units	2018 values	Flag	CF	Units	2018 values	Flag
0021	Determination of anaesthetic fees: Anaesthetic fees are determined by obtaining the sum of the basic anaesthetic units (allocated to each procedure that might be performed under anaesthetic as indicated in the “Anaesthetic Performed” column) plus the time units (calculated according to the formula in modifier 0023) and the appropriate modifiers (see modifiers 0037-0044). In cases of operative procedures on the musculoskeletal system, open fractures and open reduction of fractures or dislocations, add units as laid down by modifiers 5441 to 5448.
0023	The basic anaesthetic units are laid down in the tariff and are reflected in the anaesthetic column. These basic anaesthetic units reflect the additional anaesthetic risk, the technical skill required of the anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist and the scope of the surgical procedure, but exclude the value of the actual time spent administering the anaesthetic. The time units (indicated by “T”) will be added to the listed basic anaesthetic units in all cases on the following basis: Anaesthetic time: The remuneration for anaesthetic time shall be per 15-minute period or part thereof, calculated from the commencement of the anaesthetic, i.e. 2,00 anaesthetic units per 15-minute period or part thereof, provided that should the duration of the anaesthetic be longer than one (1) hour the number of units shall, after one (1) hour, be 3,00 anaesthetic units per 15-minute period or part thereof.
0024	Preoperative assessments not followed by procedures: If a preoperative assessment of a patient by the anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist is not followed by an operation, it will be regarded as a visit at hospital or nursing home and the appropriate hospital visit item should be charged.
0025	Calculation of anaesthetic time: Anaesthetic time is calculated from the time the anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist begins to prepare the patient for the induction of anaesthesia in the operating theatre or in a similar equivalent area and ends when the anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist is no longer required to give his/her personal professional attention to the patient, i.e. when the patient may, with reasonable safety, be placed under the customary post-operative supervision. Where prolonged personal professional attention is necessary for the well-being and safety of such patient, the necessary time will be valued on the same basis as indicated above for the anaesthetic time. The anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist must show on his/her account the exact anaesthetic time, including the supervision time spent with the patient.

	GENERAL RULE GOVERNING ULTRASONIC EXAMINATIONS DURING PREGNANCY
EE.	Ultrasound examinations The international norm approved for use in South Africa for normal pregnancy is two ultrasound exams: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> The first scan should preferably include a nuchal thickness estimation and be performed between 10 and 14 weeks gestation. The second scan should be performed between 20 and 24 weeks and should include a full anatomical report. All subsequent ultrasound scans are excluded from the benefits of medical schemes unless accompanied by proper motivation. An ultrasound scan to assess an abnormal early pregnancy may be performed before 10 weeks but this scan may not be used to diagnose a normal uncomplicated pregnancy. Item 3618 is a gynaecological scan and its use is not approved for use in pregnancy. In cases where the scan is performed by the attending practitioner, a clear indication for such a scan must be entered on the account rendered, or a letter of motivation must be attached to the account (the practitioner must elect one of the two options). In case of a referral, the referring doctor must submit a letter of motivation to the radiologist or other practitioner doing the scan. A copy of the letter of motivation must be attached to the first account rendered to the patient (by the radiologist or the other practitioner doing the scan) and must be attached to the first account submitted to the medical scheme by the patient or the doctor, as the case may be. In case of a referral to a radiologist, no motivation should be required from the radiologist.

F.	GUIDELINES TO MEDICAL SCHEMES
	Age of a child The determination of a child or adult status of the patient should be based on the clinical development of the patient's dentition. Where administrative constraints preclude the use of clinical development so that the chronological age must be used to determine the child or adult status, the patient is defined as an adult beginning at age 12 with the exclusion of treatment for orthodontics or sealants.
	Frequency of benefits The South African Dental Association recommends to medical schemes, where considered necessary and appropriate, that contract limitations on the frequency of providing care for certain services be stated as "twice a calendar year" rather than once in every six months.
	Radiographs and records Radiographs should be taken only for clinical reasons as determined by the treating dentist. Post-operative radiographs should only be required as part of dental treatment. When a dentist determined it is appropriate to comply with a third-party payer's request for radiographs, a duplicate set should be submitted and the originals retained by the dentist. Any additional costs incurred by the dentists in copying radiographs and clinical records for claims determination should be reimbursed by the third-party payer or the patient.

An established patient (patient of record) is one who has received professional services from the dentist or another dentist of the same speciality who belongs to the same group practice, within the past three years. In the instance where a dentist is on call for or covering for another dentist, the patient's encounter will be classified as it would have been by the dentist who is not available.
II.	DENTAL PROCEDURES AND SERVICES
A.	DIAGNOSTIC SERVICES
	The branch of dentistry used to identify and prevent dental disorders and disease. Includes all services/procedures available to the dentist for evaluating existing conditions and determining any further dental care that may be required.
	Clinical oral examinations
	The purpose of oral examinations is to observe and record pertinent information, past and present, necessary to arrive at a diagnosis and treatment plan (when treatment is indicated). A treatment plan is a list of procedures or services the dentist proposes to perform on a dental patient based on the results of the examination and diagnosis. Often more than one treatment plan is presented. Oral examinations may require the integration of information that is acquired through additional diagnostic procedures, which should be reported separately. The oral examination, diagnosis, and treatment planning are the responsibility of the dentist. The collection and recording of some data and components of the oral examination may, however, be delegated. Oral examinations and consultations include the issuing of prescriptions where medication is required.

C.	RESTORATIVE SERVICES
	The branch of dentistry that deals with the reconstruction of the hard tissues of a tooth or group of teeth, injured or destroyed by trauma or disease. Restorative services/procedures intend to restore the function of a natural tooth. Anterior teeth include incisors and canines. Posterior teeth include premolars and molars. The number of tooth surfaces restored, i.e. mesial, occlusal (or incisal), distal, lingual, or vestibular (buccal or labial), is used to determine the appropriate procedure code. A one surface restoration for example, involves only one of the surfaces, while a two-surface restoration extends to two of the five surfaces. With a four-or-more-surfaces anterior restoration involving four tooth surfaces and the incisal angle is involved. Limitations on amalgam and resin-based composite restorations: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The reporting of two separate restorations of the same material (e.g., a MO and DO amalgam restoration) on the same tooth is appropriate. Some medical schemes however, have a clause in its dental plan(s) that restricts coverage of the same tooth surface, such as an occlusal, twice on the same day and may require the reporting of a MOD restoration instead of a separate MO and DO restoration. 2. The current NHRPL rates include direct pulp capping (code 8301) and rubber dam application (code 8304).

I.	Fixed prosthodontics
	The branch of prosthodontics concerned with the replacement or restoration of teeth by artificial substitutes that are not readily removable. A prosthetic retainer (e.g., crown/inlay/onlay retainer) in this section is defined as a part of a bridge that attaches a pontic to the abutment tooth. A pontic is that part of a bridge which replaces a missing tooth or teeth. Each retainer and each pontic constitutes a unit in a bridge. Porcelain/ceramic retainers and pontics presently include all ceramic, porcelain and porcelain fused to metal retainers and pontics. Resin retainers and pontics and resin metal retainers and pontics include all reinforced heat and/or pressure-cured resin materials. Metal components include structures manufactured by means of conventional casting and/or electroforming.
	Pontics
	Comment: Codes 8415, 8416, 8417 and 8418 include ovate pontic designs. The nomenclatures of the pontics have been revised to coincide with the nomenclature used for crowns, which improves accurate record keeping. A similar approach has been followed for crowns and inlays/onlays utilised as bridge retainers.

0005	Multiple therapeutic procedures/operations under the same anaesthetic a. Unless otherwise identified in the tariff when multiple therapeutic procedures/operations add significant time and/or complexity, and when each procedure/operation is clearly identified and defined, the following values shall prevail: 100% (full value) for the first or major procedure/operation, 75% for the second procedure/operation, 50% for the third procedure/operation, 25% for the fourth and subsequent procedures/operations. This modifier does not apply to purely diagnostic procedures. b. In the case of multiple fractures and/or dislocations the above values shall prevail. c. When purely diagnostic endoscopic procedures or diagnostic endoscopic procedures unrelated to any therapeutic procedures performed, are performed under the same general anaesthetic, modifier 0005 is not applicable to the fees for such diagnostic endoscopic procedures as the fees for endoscopic procedures do not provide for aftercare. Specify unrelated endoscopic procedure and provide diagnosis to indicate diagnostic endoscopic procedure(s) unrelated to other (therapeutic) procedures performed under the same anaesthetic. d. Please note: When more than one small procedure is performed and the tariff makes provision for items for “subsequent” or “maximum for multiple additional procedures” (see Section 2: Integumentary System) modifier 0005 is not applicable as the fee is already a reduced fee. e. “+” means that this item is used in addition to another definitive procedure and is therefore not subject to reduction according to modifier 0005 (see also modifier 0082).

0024	Preoperative assessments not followed by procedures: If a preoperative assessment of a patient by the anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist is not followed by an operation, it will be regarded as a visit at hospital or nursing home and the appropriate hospital visit item should be charged.
0025	Calculation of anaesthetic time Anaesthetic time is calculated from the time the anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist begins to prepare the patient for the induction of anaesthesia in the operating theatre or in a similar equivalent area and ends when the anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist is no longer required to give his/her personal professional attention to the patient, i.e. when the patient may, with reasonable safety, be placed under the customary post-operative supervision. Where prolonged personal professional attention is necessary for the well-being and safety of said patient, the necessary time will be valued on the same basis as indicated above for the anaesthetic time. The anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist must show on his/her account the exact anaesthetic time, including the supervision time spent with the patient.
0027	More than one procedure under the same anaesthetic: Where more than one operation is performed under the same anaesthetic, the basic anaesthetic units will be that of the major operation with the highest number of units.
0028	Indicator for use of low flow anaesthetic technique less than 1litre/minute: Fresh gas flow of less than 1 litre/minute
0029	Assistant anaesthesiologists: When rendered necessary by the scope of the anaesthetic, an assistant anaesthesiologist may be employed. The remuneration of the assistant anaesthesiologist shall be calculated on the same basis as in the case where a General Practitioner administers the anaesthetic.
0030	Indicator for use of low flow anaesthetic technique 1-2 litre/minute: Fresh gas flow of 1 to 2 litre/minute
0031	Intravenous drips and transfusions: Treatment with intravenous drips and transfusions is considered part of the normal treatment in administering an anaesthetic. No additional fees may be charged for such services when rendered either prior to, or during actual theatre or operating time.
0032	Patients in prone position: Anaesthesia administered to patients in the prone position shall have a minimum of 4,00 basic anaesthetic units. When the basic anaesthetic units for the procedure is 3,00, one extra anaesthetic unit should be added. If the basic anaesthetic units for the procedure is 4,00 or more, no extra units should be added.
0033	Participating in general care of patients When an anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist is required to participate in the general care of a patient during a surgical procedure, but does not administer the anaesthetic, such services may be remunerated at full anaesthetic rate, subject to the provisos of modifier 0035: Anaesthetic administered by an anaesthesiologist/anaesthetist and modifier 0036: Anaesthetic administered by General Practitioners.

Please note that the 4/5 (80%) principle will be applied to all anaesthetics administered by General Practitioners with the proviso that no anaesthetic with a total number of units higher than 11.00 will be reduced to less than 11,00 units in total. 	GENERAL RULE GOVERNING ULTRASONIC EXAMINATIONS DURING PREGNANCY
EE.	Ultrasound examinations The international norm approved for use in South Africa for normal pregnancy is two ultrasound exams: a. The first scan should preferably include a nuchal thickness estimation and be performed between 10 and 14 weeks gestation. The second scan should be performed between 20 and 24 weeks and should include a full anatomical report. All subsequent ultrasound scans are excluded from the benefits of medical schemes unless accompanied by proper motivation. An ultrasound scan to assess an abnormal early pregnancy may be formed before 10 weeks but this scan may not be used to diagnose a normal uncomplicated pregnancy. Item 3618 is a gynaecological scan and its use is not approved for use in pregnancy.
